TOP NOTES OF THE WEEK

1. The Royals snapped a five game winless (and four game losing) streak in home openers, dating back to a 2-1 overtime win over the Trenton Titans on October 29, 2005 (when the OT GWG was scored by former Royal and current Boston Bruin and Stanley Cup Champion, Rich Peverley) with the 3-2 win over the Cincinnati Cyclones at the Sovereign Center on Saturday night. In the eleven years that the Royals have been in Reading, the team has compiled a record of 4-5-2 in home openers.
2. Saturday's win marked the second time in three games played that the Royals had come from behind to pick up at least a point in the game. On Saturday, the Royals trailed the Cyclones 1-0 and 2-1 before coming back to win. In the season opening overtime loss to the South Carolina Stingrays, the Royals also came back to earn a point after trailing twice in that game as well.
3. The 7-2 loss to the Florida Everblades on Sunday marked the largest margin of loss in a regular season game for the Royals since the home opening loss one year to the day (October 23, 2010) in Reading's home opening loss to the Elmira Jackals. The Royals also lost by five (8-3) to the Kalamazoo Wings in Game One of the Eastern Conference Semi-Final series last year.
4. The Royals have scored eleven goals this season—and they've come off the sticks of ten different players. Matt Caruana is the only Royal with more than one goal (2). Fourteen of the nineteen skaters who have played for Reading so far have recorded at least one point.
5. The last six goals scored by the Royals have all been registered while the team was on the power play. Reading has not scored an even strength goal since the 14:08 mark of the first period in the 3-2 win over the Greenville Road Warriors in Game Two of the season—a span of 165:52. The Royals have scored the team's six PPG in 20 chances with the man advantage —a 30.0% scoring ratio which is the second best in the league.
6. Matt Caruana scored the game winning goal for the Royals in Saturday's 3-2 win over Cincinnati. Over the past two seasons, Caruana has scored a total of five game winners. His last GWG for Reading was also against Cincinnati—in the 3-0 win for the Royals in Game Three of the Eastern Conference Quarter-Finals last year.
7. Going into Saturday night's game, Rob Shearer, who turned 35 last Thursday, had scored 276 career goals in 890 pro games. Shearer scored the Royals first goal of the season at the Sovereign Center this year—and it was also his first ever in the ECHL. Shearer is currently riding a three game point streak (1g-2a=3pts).
8. Goaltender Mark Owuya made 36 saves on Saturday night to record his first win in North American pro. Owuya also came on in substitution for Joe Palmer 23:13 into Sunday's 7-2 loss, allowing two goals on 18 shots in 36:42 of game time. In Sunday's game, Owuya faced the twenty-first penalty shot in the eleventh year history of the Royals. He stopped Trevor Bruess' bid on the penalty shot 4:45 into the third period.. Royals' goalies have stopped 16 of the 21 penalty shots they've faced. Owuya was recalled to the Toronto Marlies today—Monday, October 24.
9. Chad Painchaud assisted on both goals scored by Reading in Sunday's loss. That was Painchaud's second multi-point performance as a Royal. Painchaud, who leads the team in scoring, is currently riding a three game point streak (1g-4a).
10. The Royals held the Cyclones to 38 shots on Saturday; but in the other three games played this season, the Royals have allowed more than forty shots against. Last season, Reading allowed forty or more shots 24 times and concluded the season in last place with respect to shots against (36.28/game). This season the Royals find themselves in that same position, allowing 169 shots over four games (a 42.25 shots per game average).
11. This Royals play 42 of the team's 72 regular season games against teams from the Atlantic Division this year. However, 9 of the team's first 10 games this year are against teams outside the Atlantic—and 8 of those are against teams from the South. That trend continues this week, as the Royals play the South Carolina Stingrays for the second time this year on Thursday at the Sovereign Center. Reading also faces the Gwinnett Gladiators on Saturday. Sandwiched between those two games is the first game the team will play against a divisional opponent—the Trenton Titans—at Sun National Bank Center in Trenton on Friday.

CLOSING NOTES

1. Former Royal goaltender, Jon Quick, set a Los Angeles Kings' team record this past week by recording his third consecutive shutout when he and his teammates defeated the Dallas Stars 1-0 on Saturday night. That was Quick's seventeenth career NHL shutout. He has held the opposition without a goal for 188:18 of game time. Quick's 2-0 win over the Phoenix Coyotes on Thursday was his 100th career NHL win.
2. Bracken Kearns, who played 17 games for the Royals in the 2007-08, became the nineteenth former Royal to play in the NHL last Thursday, when he and his Florida Panther teammates were defeated by the Buffalo Sabres, 3-0. Kearns, who turned 30 last May, was the first player to make his NHL debut with the Panthers at 30 years of age or older since 1995. Kearns father, Dennis, played 677 NHL games with the Vancouver Canucks from 1971 through 1981.

HEAD COACH LARRY COURVILLE

Position: Head Coach and Director of Hockey Operations

Age: 36 (04-02-75)

Home Town: Timmins, Ontario

Resides: Palmyra, Pennsylvania

Larry Courville embarks upon his third full season as the head coach and director of hockey operations for the Royals in 2011-12. Last season, under Courville's guidance, the Royals established a new team record with forty-four regular season wins and captured the Atlantic Division regular season title. In both of Courville's full seasons as the Royals head coach, the team qualified for the playoffs, and in the 2010 playoffs the team went on the longest playoff run in team history—all the way to the Conference Finals before getting eliminated in game seven. Courville has coached the Royals in more playoff games than any other coach in team history. Courville was instated as the sixth head coach in Royals' history, when he took the reigns of the team on January 6, 2009. At that time, the team had played thirty-four games into the 2008-09 ECHL regular season and had compiled a record of 9-23-2. Over the final thirty-eight games of the season, Courville led the Royals to a 15-19-4 record. This stint with the Royals marks the first pro head coaching assignment for Courville, who served as the general manager, facility director, and hockey operations supervisor of a Lancaster, Pennsylvania ice rink for over two years after completing his final full season as a player in 2006.

Courville, a third round pick of the Vancouver Canucks in 1995, played in more than 600 pro hockey games, including 33 in the National Hockey League with the Canucks. During his playing career, Courville, who served as team captain during no fewer than six of his nine full-time playing seasons, racked up over three hundred points and a thousand penalty minutes and was named as the team's Most Valuable Player for the Syracuse Crunch of the American Hockey League in 1996-97. Prior to turning pro, Courville, who originally hails from Timmins, Ontario, was twice a member of Team Canada Gold Medal championships in international play, including the 1995 World Junior U-20 Championship, during which he played an integral role on his home country's team that went undefeated during the world's premiere amateur tournament.

Courville played all or parts of five different seasons with the Royals, starting with a short stint during the team's inaugural year (2001-02) and culminating with ten games played on an 'as-needed' basis during the 2007-08 season. In addition to earning the respect of his teammates and the admiration of the fans in Reading for his gritty and relentless style of play, Courville also received the Royals' Unsung Hero Award at the conclusion of the 2004-05 season and the team's Heart Award in 2005-06. On October 22, 2006, Courville became the first person ever inducted into the Reading Eagle Wall of Honor at the Sovereign Center, which honors members of the Royals' organization who have made distinctive contributions to the success of the team. Perhaps not surprisingly, on the day that he was inducted into the Wall of Honor, Courville dressed for Royals and played an instrumental part in the team's 5-3 victory over the Pensacola Ice Pilots, which included scoring a late-game goal to ice the team's win.

Larry and his wife, Shannon, and their two young daughters (MaKenna and Morgan) and son (Mason), currently reside in Palmyra, Pennsylvania.
